Baltic Amber Jewelry Booth #31 Category: AM

Kristof Socha

Columbus, OH

336-413-6876

amberguy@hotmail.com

Description: Baltic amber is one of the most unique and rare gemstones in the world. It's not a mineral but a completely organic substance, 30 to 90 million years old, prehistoric, petrified tree resin. This stone from the Baltic sea, which heals wounds and smells beautifully when burnt, has captured the imagination of humankind and it's one of the most amazing masterpieces by the hand of mother nature! I'm originally from Poland, where amber is a national gemstone. As a young boy I was picking up amber on the beach after the storms, now I'm enjoying sharing its beauty with others. My friend does the silver work and I work with the stones. We present very beautiful and attractive jewelry which from the beginning of civilization has been very popular and well known all over Europe.

J&C Workshop Booth #64 Category: AM

Christy & John Mealy

Tionesta, PA

814-755-4043

johnmealy@verizon.net

Description: We create beautiful artisan bandsaw boxes, available in Rustic or Inlay Design, that can be used to store your jewelry or trinkets. The inlay process begins with spending weeks making blocks of wood. We use walnut, cherry, oak, maple and poplar. Most of the wood is from our own property, cut into boards by our Amish neighbors, and dried on our property. Each block of wood is free-hand drawn with a design and cutout with a bandsaw. The rustic design process begins with trying to find an interesting log, drawing unique designs and cutting the box green. This box must dry for approximately 6 months. We make our own pull handles for each box. We also create rustic log mugs with grapevine handles.

Secret Springs Studio Booth #73 Category: AM

Amanda Robinson
Lynchburg, VA
910-581-7884
secretspringsstudio@gmail.com

Description: Each leaf mask starts with a natural leaf impression on clay, then I hand sculpt the facial features and accents adding any additional leaves needed. After the curing process, each mask is enhanced using several different painting techniques that I developed over years of creating murals, faux finishes and canvas work. Once the paint has dried I apply a thin clear coat to protect the paint from fading. On the back I write the type of leaf and the location where it was found. Each unique piece is signed, numbered, and cataloged. All leaf masks can be hung indoors or outside. I use my love of nature to create leaf sculptures that give life to the fantasy and humor I find in the world.

Glowing Tree Jewelry Booth #89 Category: AM

Danielle Sack McGinnis
New Kensington, PA
724-493-2458

glowingtreejewelry@yahoo.com

Description: We create handmade necklaces, earrings, bracelets, rings and anklets made from clay, porcelain, leather and semi-precious stones. All our items, including the beads we use, are 100% handmade. Clay pieces are made by mixing colors and creating a clay cane that is cut to reveal an intricate design. Clay is formed into beads which are then used in all of our jewelry. We also work with metal clay, which is a flexible form of sterling silver. All clay pieces are carefully sanded, baked and sealed. Our porcelain jewelry is made by cutting vintage china into various shapes and setting it into handmade silver settings. We also offer hand crocheted necklaces in silver and gold cord which are accented with our handmade beads. Most of our items are also accented with semi-precious stones and crystals. During the festival I will be demonstrating how we make our wire rings and clay beads.
